

EVER EXAMINE a wasp's nest? Its tissue seems to be paper—and it actually is.

I was fascinated by the discovery as a boy. During the day we would mark out wasps' and hornets' nests on our farm, and after sundown we would arm ourselves with long poles that had kerosene-soaked rags wrapped around one end; we'd find the wasps at home—and proceed to burn them out.

But many a nest burned away from the tree and fell to the ground empty, and nearly intact. That's when I inspected the stuff they were made of. It looked like paper—but I didn't know then that it actually was.

This discovery, however, had been made back in 1719. The current edition of Editor & Publisher, New York, our trade paper, reports that in that year Rene de Reaumur, French scientist, noted that wasps' nests looked like paper—although paper then was made from rags, and was frightfully expensive.

De Reaumur wondered what the wasps used as a substitute for rags, and he began to watch them build nests. The wasps took a piece of wood from a fence, chewed it up into a paste, then spread it on the structure of the nest—and when it was dry it was paper!

De Reaumur recorded his discovery, but it wasn't until 1844 that the process could be turned to mankind's advantage. In that year Frederick Keller, a German engineer, invented the first wood-grinding machine to make paper pulp. By 1863 wood-pulp paper was in general use in Europe, and then it came to America.

Like the wasps, men cut up small wood, grind it to a pulp, make it into a paste with the aid of acid, then "spread" it through vast machines until it comes out thin and dry—as paper.

Accident Take Toll in State

By the Associated Press
A highway accident and a fall from a child's see-saw resulted in deaths in Arkansas over the Easter weekend.

Glendon E. Woodson, 24, of Lape, was found dead in his automobile near Paragould early Sunday. He had been injured Saturday night when the car left the highway and ran into a shallow ditch. Woodson told a passerby he felt ill, but wasn't hurt badly. Acting Coroner J. A. Grooms said the only visible injury was a bruise on the left temple. Grooms returned a verdict of accidental death.

Peggy Hilbert, three, of Walnut Ridge, was killed in the fall from the see-saw at Walnut Ridge. She was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Hilbert of Walnut Ridge. Her father is a tailor, stationed at Adak, Alaska.

The two fatalities raised the toll from accident and violence in Arkansas since last Monday to nine.

Easter Death Toll Reaches 224

By the Associated Press
Traffic and a variety of other accidents caused 224 deaths over the weekend as the nation celebrated Easter.

Between 6 p. m. (local time) Friday and at midnight, the known traffic fatalities had climbed to 159, and deaths from miscellaneous causes to 65.

The latter group included three brothers and a sister who apparently died of suffocation during a fire in their four-room cottage home in Toledo, O. They were Barbara Root, 7, and her brothers, Donald R. Edward 6, and Michael, 3.

The deaths by states, (traffic and miscellaneous) included:

Arkansas 24.

Forest Fires Spread in State

Little Rock, March 26 —W—Forest fires in north Arkansas have destroyed houses and barns in addition to thousands of acres of timber.

F. H. Martin, state forestry division information officer, said three houses and three barns were burned at Three Brothers, northwest of Mountain Home, yesterday.

Another building—reports differed as to whether it was a dwelling or barn—was burned near etao S An etao shridu mh Oxford. And Saturday a barn burned near Mountain View.

Some 40 fires, involving 9,000 acres, were extinguished yesterday, but 74 others still burned over an estimated 5,000 acres.

Stockmen Organize to Fight Thieves

A large group of cattlemen met in the Hope Chamber of Commerce office last Saturday morning and perfected "The Third District Livestock Protective Association".

Oliver Adams, Hempstead County Agricultural Agent, acted as temporary chairman. Ed Cox of Columbus, Arkansas was elected as permanent chairman and J. I. Liebong was chosen secretary-treasurer. The group selected a planning committee which will meet Thursday March 29th at the Chamber of Commerce office.

This committee is composed of Ed Cox, Alton Foster, Tom Jones, M. S. Bates, Roy Fry, A. W. Biorseth.

Any livestock man can obtain membership in the association by paying the fee of ten ($10.00) dollars.

The association is offering a reward of five hundred ($500.00) dollars to anyone furnishing information leading to the arrest and conviction of any member of the association.

New Term Bid by Truman May Bring Split

Washington, March 26 —(AP)—The signs indicated today that any new term bid by President Truman may meet with opposition within his party.

Most Washington politicians willing to talk about it apparently think Mr. Truman has hit a new low in popularity because of recent exposures of alleged influence rackets within his administration.

Many of these politicians agree that the Korean war venture has had a bad political reaction on the Truman administration, despite its recent military turn for the better.

Labor has been firing broadsides at the president's production and economic stabilization setup and doesn't seem to be much nearer to reconciliation than it was several weeks ago.

This railroad switchmen's disagreement with management goes on with little apparent progress toward solution. Railroad union men generally are credited with feeling they haven't been treated entirely fairly by the White House.

To all of this has been added a sure sign that the President will have some expertly-led opposition from southern Democrats if he should decide he wants another four years in the White House.

Gov. James F. Byrnes of South Carolina, who has blasted the Truman "fair deal" proposals, firmly rejected a bid last week to head up the states' rights movement which took 39 electoral votes away from Mr. Truman in 1948.

The railroad confirmed reports that Byrnes who broke with the President after he resigned as secretary of state, intends to play a leading part in the next Democratic convention in opposing the President—or possibly anyone the President might back to succeed him as the nominee.

The South lost its power of veto in the convention when it lost the two-thirds nominating rule. But anything like Southern unity would make its weight felt in a race where several candidates are entered. And Byrnes has demonstrated his experience and ability in the past as a worker behind the scenes.

The general political opinion around Washington just now is that the President doesn't intend to seek another term.

Cold Weather Is General

By UNITED PRESS

Unseasonably cold weather covered portions of the Great Lakes and the east coast today but warmer weather on the great plains caused concern over possible floods.

The chilly weather today was a continuation of nippy temperatures which reduced attendance in New York's Easter parade yesterday to less than 600,000. The annual promenade down Fifth avenue usually draws more than 1,000,000 persons.

Church attendance across the nation was good despite the fact that many worshippers had to wear overcoats, furs and ear muffs.

Clear skies during the night let the warmth from yesterday's sun escape from snow-covered areas of Michigan and the mercury sank this morning to 15 below zero at Pellston and eight below at Cadillac.

Generally over the nation, however, a friendly sun shown on the bright spring hats women were showing off.

Pictured above are 13 Hempstead county youths who received awards at a dinner Saturday at Hotel Barlow, for their part in a county-wide quail conservation program. Five winners were not present. The awards ranged from $25 down to $5 in cash and merchandise by local merchants and sportsmen. The program is being carried out under the direction of Game Warden Earl J. Barham and Dorsey Clinton Campbell, John Marshall Hurd, Thomas Moses, all of near Hope, Oliver Rosenbaum of Fulton, Donald Avery of Prescott Rt. 3, Elvin McDougald, McCaskill Rt. 1, J. L. Ward, Prescott Rt. 5, George Hulsey, Washington Rt. 1, Robert Smittle, and James Huett of Patmos.

Schools Can Require Vaccinations

Little Rock, March 26 —(AP)—The right of a school to require pupils to be vaccinated against smallpox was upheld today by the Arkansas Supreme court.

The court said that compulsory vaccination is not an infringement on an individual's rights under the United States constitution.

The decision was handed down in a lawsuit filed by Mr. and Mrs. Frank Seybold of Fort Smith against the Fort Smith special school district.

They challenged the right of the school to require their three school-age children to be vaccinated against smallpox. The school district refused to admit the children to school unless they were vaccinated.

The Sebastian county chancery court upheld the regulation set down by the school district; the supreme court opinion, written by Associate Justice Ed F. McFadden, affirmed the lower court's order.

The state supreme court cited a U. S. Supreme court decision that "it is within the police power of a state to provide for compulsory vaccination."

Mr. and Mrs. Seybold said in their petition, that their children were in good health and free of disease. They asserted that smallpox vaccine not only is unnecessary but is dangerous to the health and safety of a person by lowering natural resistance to infectious disease.

The supreme court said that such complaints should be submitted to the Arkansas health department which has jurisdiction over health matters of the state.

The Supreme court also held that the Arkansas Power and Light company was not negligent in the injury of a 7-year-old boy who touched an electric wire while climbing a utility pole.

The youngest, Tommy Garrett, son of Charles D. Garrett of Little Rock, was injured Dec. 16, 1941, while playing in an abandoned rock crusher near the Little Rock Country club.

The Supreme court upheld the Pulaski Circuit court decision which said the power company was not at fault in that the area was well marked and that visitors to the area went there on their own.

Johnston in Warning of High Profits

Washington, March 26 —(AP)—Economic Stabilizer Erick Johnston assesses climbing business profits, farm prices and wages for labor as potential explosives which "could blow the roof off inflation."

In a television interview yesterday he said:

"Business profits in 1950 were 30 per cent above 1949 in spite of increased taxes, and 'we simply cannot allow business profits to keep going up."

2. Farm profits have gone up 27 per cent since fighting started in Korea.

3. He hoped working men will not ask for wage increases beyond the present formula which permits 10 per cent "above" the levels of January, 1950.

Any of these things, Johnston warned, could "blow the roof off." He said it is "essential" to get prices and wages stabilized by the summer or fall, when he said military goods will begin to roll off assembly lines for the first time "in any quantity."

In the meantime, the government is expected to roll back up defense priority ratings with more positive assurance that defense and related industries get the steel, copper and aluminum they need after July 1.

Defense production officials probably will decide to clamp on a controlled materials plan to limit further the use of the metals in many products for civilians.

Financial Strain Cancels District Band Festival

A district four band festival scheduled to be held in Hope on April 13 has been canceled, G. T. Cannon local director, announced today.

Cancellation was due to the financial condition of schools in the district. A poll of 17 schools in the section revealed only 7 "might" be able to send bands to the clinic, and the others declined.

The festival is definitely a casualty of current financial conditions in which most schools of Arkansas find themselves, James H. Jones, superintendent of Hope public schools, announced.

MacArthur May Again Be Restrained

Washington, March 26 —(AP)—The dispute that rages between General Douglas MacArthur and the Truman administration over how to win the Korean war has reached fever heat again. The administration may shortly ask the general to clear with Washington anything he says involving broad foreign policy issues.

This may or may not prove acceptable to MacArthur, but state department officials as well as some others with great influence at the White House privately say something must be done to prevent a repetition of last week's exchange of shocks and harsh words between Tokyo and Washington.

President Truman circulated last December a firm government-wide directive barring any statement of foreign policy by any official or employee of the government in a speech, article or other public utterance, should be cleared with the state department. Informants said today that order was called to MacArthur's attention at the time.

Friday night, Washington time, MacArthur left Tokyo for the 38th parallel area of Korea to order United Nations forces to cross into North Korea as tactical requirements made necessary. Before leaving Tokyo he issued a statement to the press.

In this statement he made a bid for peace talks with his opposite number on the Communist side, said the Chinese Reds were licked and incapable of waging modern war and warned that if the United Nations launched attacks on Chinese bases and coastal areas the Reds would probably suffer military collapse.

This statement, a check showed, caught the state department completely unawares. It apparently also caught President Truman without advance notice. After several hours of parleying, including a talk between Secretary of State Acheson and Mr. Truman, a rather meaningless statement was issued, designed to say on Saturday that Washington had nothing to do with what MacArthur declared Friday night.

The statement said MACARTHUR had authority to conduct military operations but that political issues which "he has stated are beyond his responsibilities" are being dealt with in the U. N. and by the governments having troops in Korea.

Little Hope of Finding Missing Plane

Shannon Airport, Ireland, March 26 —(AP)—Ships and planes swept the North Atlantic for the fourth day today seeking a trace of the vanished U. S. air force globe-master and its 53 American airmen. Speculation that the giant plane had been sabotaged appeared in the British press.

Officials, their hopes virtually dashed that any of the missing airmen would be found remain silent concerning what might have happened to the big transport. But there has been speculation in British newspaper that it might have exploded in flight. The newspapers said they considered it odd that so few clues have been found in the relatively well-traveled area of the Atlantic.

A reporter for the London Daily Express wrote that in his opinion the plane probably was sabotaged. He wrote that unless the disaster had been instantaneous, the radio operator would have had time to switch over to his distress wave length.

A giant U. S. navy aircraft carrier and two destroyers were joining the air-sea hunt for the Globe-master.

The carrier Coral Sea and two destroyers enroute from Norfolk Va., to join the U. S. Sixth Fleet in the Mediterranean, were diverted to the area 630 miles southwest of Shannon where the plane was believed to have gone down Good Friday.

Seven ships and 31 U. S. and British planes already were circling the area but found no trace of the transport plane.

Nothing from the missing plane has been sighted since a suitcase belonging to one of the passengers, Capt. Lawrence E. Rufferty of Great Lakes, Ill., was picked up by a ship Saturday night.

UN Solidifies Line Near the 38th Parallel

Tokyo, March 26 —(AP)—United Nations troops solidified their lines on the western front in Korea today and drove rapidly north toward the 38th parallel.

Allied forces moved east from Munson and linked up with an American division north of Uijongbu. The town is about 10 miles south of the prewar boundary between North and South Korea.

Field dispatches said Red resistance melted. The Americans advanced rapidly despite soupy Korean mud.

The entire U. N. line drew closer to Parallel 38. It appeared the Allies could cross in force whenever they chose.

On the central front an American division was reported within two miles of North Korea. On the east coast South Korean patrols penetrated the imaginary line like a sieve, crossing and recrossing at will.

Far East naval headquarters said South Korean troops staged a commando raid 50 miles north of the parallel Saturday. They landed on the Wolsa peninsula and killed 100 Reds while capturing 60. Then they withdrew.

The peninsula is south of the Taedong estuary which leads to Chinnampo, port city for the North Korean capital of Pyongyang.

From the western front AP Correspondent Jim Becker quoted U. S. officers as saying the link-up "saved us four or five days of tough fighting."

The officers said the Chinese 26th army corps rushed into defensive positions north of Seoul only last week, had withdrawn. The only Reds spotted between the Americans and 38 was a single company. It was equipped with tanks. This unit was sighted north of Uijongbu.

Until the link-up, the Reds fought a stubborn delaying action along the road leading north from Uijongbu.

Heavy Red troops concentrations were reported just north of the 38th parallel. Parts of six Chinese and North Korean armies were spread between and around the North Korean towns of Yonchon and Iwachen.

Moran Indicted on Charges of Perjury

New York, March 26 —(AP)—James J. Moran, resigned New York city water commissioner, was indicted on perjury charges today growing out of testimony before senate crime investigators.

Also indicted on charges of lying under oath to the senate committee was Louis Weber, acknowledged Brooklyn numbers bookmaker. The indictments were returned by a federal grand jury.

Moran, a long-time political protégé of ex-Mayor William O'Dwyer, was accused of falsely telling the committee that Weber visited his office no more than six times between 1946 and 1950.

Moran was then deputy fire commissioner. He was elevated to a lifetime, $15,000-a-year job as water commissioner by O'Dwyer shortly before O'Dwyer quit to become ambassador to Mexico.

Just last week, Moran was forced to resign the water commissioner post after he was accused before the senate committee of accepting $55,000 in "good will" gifts from the head of a fireman's association. His resignation was demanded by Mayor Vincent Impellitteri.

The perjury charges in an indictment from the senate committee were made public in New York City.

A. A. Attorney Irving T. Saypol said that "there was considerable testimony during the hearing that Moran had visited Weber at a time of at least 10 times."

Weber, in a statement, said he had no contact with Moran since Moran's resignation. He said he had no contact with Moran since Moran's resignation. He said he had no contact with Moran since Moran's resignation.

The first completed system in the U. S. was established in 1874.

Hoover Urges Continuation of Crime Probe

Washington, March 26 —(AP)—Director J. Edgar Hoover today urged the senate crime committee to continue its exposure of organized crime which "has polluted all too many communities of our nation."

He called also for local communities to take the lead in ruthlessly eliminating criminal elements and their ally, "the illicit renegade." Every community, Hoover suggested, should have a "gently grand jury investigation" to scrutinize the administration of justice.

Hoover and Attorney General McGrath were before the senate committee to discuss what laws may be needed to combat crime.

McGrath urged that Congress tighten the laws against perjury, false testimony under oath—give him authority to grant immunity to a witness who deems to testify lest he be incriminated.

He recommended, too, legislation aimed to deny use of communications facilities for gambling information. But he emphasized that any such law should take into account the importance of maintaining the freedom of the press.

Even as the law enforcement forces were testifying, a New York grand jury returned two indictments on perjury charges growing out of the committee's hearing there.

Those indicted were James Moran, resigned New York city water commissioner, and Louis Weber, acknowledged Brooklyn numbers bookmaker. They were accused of lying in testimony about their associations with other.

McGrath, with some, he heard, told the senators there was no way the federal government could deport Frankie Costello, New York racketeer, who is a naturalized citizen.

McGrath's show of anger when he said some newspapers were "trying to make it appear the justice department had failed to deport Costello."

McGrath opposed suggestion of a federal crime commission, saying it might lead to creation of a national police force.

Chairman Kefauver (D-Tenn.) the investigating committee proposed establishment of a federal crime commission to take over the committee's work. It is scheduled to be wound up May 31, unless the senate votes to renew it.

The senators, after weeks of glomming the crime, called McGraw and Hoover over for suggestions on what Congress should do about the work of the federal commission, as a witness.

Before McGrath started his testimony, Kefauver said the committee has "just about" closed its hearings, and now get down to drafting legislative recommendations for submission to congress.

Washington, March 26 —(AP)—J. Edgar Hoover disclosed today that the FBI has secreted among a group of American communists which he said was underground for possible later date.

The disclosure was reported in a copyrighted interview in magazine "U. S. News and World Report."

"I WANT TO TELL THIS TO WOMEN IN YOUR 40's"

I find Lydia Pinkham's Vegetable Compound wonderful to relieve distress of "change of life"

"Any woman between the ages of 35 and 55 should be interested in my experience. I was going through functional change of life and found myself terribly embarrassed. I was not happy, and I felt so nervous, really upset because of this."

"What really shocked me was when I overheard my husband explaining my shortcomings to his friends. He said, 'Don't mind Louise—she's going through change of life.' That made up my mind. I had heard how effective Lydia Pinkham's Vegetable Compound was for relieving such symptoms. I decided then and there to try it. Thank heavens I did."

I find Pinkham's Compound simply marvelous to relieve embarrassing symptoms due to this cause. In fact I now take Lydia Pinkham's Compound regularly to help build up my system and keep my nerves steady. It has helped me through this change of life. A wonderful relief to my distress. A wonderful relief to my distress. A wonderful relief to my distress."

Lydia Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is a natural, non-toxic, and safe remedy for women's ailments. It is made from the finest vegetable roots and herbs. It is a wonderful relief to my distress. A wonderful relief to my distress. A wonderful relief to my distress."

DOROTHY DIX

Good Risk

Dear Miss Dix: I am a woman of 31. Have never been married. Now I have a proposal from a widower who is twenty years older than I am. His children are all married, so they would be no problem. The only thing against him is his age, yet he is very active mentally and physically. In excellent health and could easily pass for a man of 55 or 60. As nearly as I can analyze my feelings toward him, they are a combination of respect, admiration and a desire for security, coupled with a dash of romance. I do not have to marry because I have a good job and can support myself, but I feel the need for companionship. Do you think such a marriage would be reasonably happy?

M. J. B.

Answer: Why not? Every marriage is more or less of a gamble, but age takes no more risks when it enters the holy estate than youth does. In fact, the odds are in favor of age because years of living and experience in dealing with people have taught the mature man and woman self-control, the technique of getting along with other and not expecting perfection in more human beings than the boy and girl lack.

Wants Own Home
 I am strong for elderly people marrying when they pick their mate with reasonable prudence.

Old people are very lonely. If they have no husbands or wives, living with their children does not satisfy them, no matter how kind and good their children are to them. They want their own homes in which they can do as they please, not to feel that they are perpetual guests in another's house.

Because the old need companionship when they can no longer go out to seek amusement for themselves, it is a good thing for them to marry some congenial soul even after they have long passed the age of romance.

As for the matter of age, a woman of 31 would be foolish to marry a man twenty years her senior if he were feeble and in delicate health, unless she had a nursing complex. But if he is healthy and vigorous he should be going strong into his eighties, and that would give them a span of happiness together worth having.

Dear Miss Dix: When I was a young man my father used to say to me: "Son, when you find yourself getting especially interested in a girl go around to the kitchen door to call on her; then you will see her as she really is without her company clothes or manner." I followed this advice even to the extent of boarding with the mother of the girl I wanted to marry and the results have been very satisfactory.

Answer: I'd tell him to take the car and drive as far away in the other direction from me as he could go and never come back. A man who is irresponsible and lacking in all sense of a husband's and

25 Years Ago Today

From Files of Star of Hope

March 26, 1926
 The UDC chapter of Hope with Mrs. C. S. Lowthorp as chairman has been appointed to take charge of the sale in Hope of Stone Mountain Confederate Memorial coins.

An effort was launched to secure the location of the Experiment Farm by the directors of the Hope Chamber of Commerce in a meeting held yesterday.

Mrs. J. C. Carlton, Miss Evelyn Murph and Miss Gwendolyn Dean were guests at the weekly meeting of the Hope Rotary club. Miss Murph, accompanied by Mrs. Carlton at the piano, sang; and Miss Dean gave a reading.

I pass along the tip to the youth of today.

Answer: And good advice it is, too. Many a man would be saved from bitter disillusion if he had ever got a close-up before marriage of Evelina at 8 a. m. Instead of only having seen her at 8 p. m. For there is a vast difference between many a girl at breakfast at home with her complexion off and a stoppy kimono on, and at 8 p. m. when she is all prettied up and ready to go out.

I have always contended that if bridal tours could be taken before marriage instead of afterward it would save many a divorce, because both the party of the first part and the party of the second part would have a chance to find out just what good sports each was and how each would meet the ups and downs of marriage.

But maybe boarding with the girl's mother is an even better way of getting a line on Evelina. Anyway, it is worth trying.

Dear Dorothy Dix: If you were a young married woman who worked in an office and earned most of the family support, scribbled and saved and went without everything you needed in order to give medical attention to a sick baby, what would you do if your husband took all of your savings to buy a new car?

Answer: I'd tell him to take the car and drive as far away in the other direction from me as he could go and never come back. A man who is irresponsible and lacking in all sense of a husband's and

Cook on Way to Alcatraz

San Francisco, March 26 — (AP)— outlaw Billy Cook, guarded by three federal officers and shackled hand and foot, is expected to arrive here this evening to begin serving a 300-year sentence at Alcatraz prison.

The 23-year-old desperado was sentenced to the log-swept prison in San Francisco last week by a federal judge in Oklahoma City.
Cook was convicted of killing the five-member Carl Mosser family of Alwood, Ill.

As he boarded a train in Oklahoma City Saturday night, Cook promised:

"I'm going to study the Bible and not give anybody any trouble out there."

The youthful killer may be in further trouble, however. He is wanted in Imperial County, Calif., for the slaying of Robert Dewey 32, of Seattle. State courts in Missouri and Oklahoma also want to try him for the Mosser slayings.

Conviction on any of these could bring him the death penalty.

Man Arraigned for Double Shooting

Boonville, March 26 — (AP)—Bill
Odin, 45, was to be arraigned in Circuit court here today on two counts of first degree murder for the fatal shooting of his former wife, Mrs. Bob Smith, and her husband March 15.

Circuit Judge Carl Crenshaw was expected to set a date for Odin's trial.

Odin shot himself but recovered.
He now is in jail here.

Wound Fatal to Iran Professor

Tehran, March 26 — (AP)—A second assassination death was reported yesterday in this terrorism-ridden capital, now under martial law. Dr. Abdul Hamid Zahanghi, former education minister of Iran, died from the bullet of a student fired into him last MON-DAY.

Premier Ali Razmara was assassinated March 7 by a member of the Moslem terrorist group, Fedayan Islam, which has sparked the fight for nationalization of Iran's British-dominated oil industry. Razmara opposed the government take-over which an apprehensive parliament approved in principle after his death.

Zahanghi, president of the Tehran university law faculty, was a close friend of Razmara. Though police said his assailant was enraged because Zahanghi caught him cheating and barred him from the school, officials believed the youth also was a member of Fed-ayan Islam.

Production Lines

Defense Lines

No country on earth dislikes to produce weapons of war more than America.

But no country on earth can do the job as swiftly and expertly as America—when she has to.

One of the reasons we can out-produce any other nation is our telephone system—the biggest and best in the world.

Here in Arkansas millions of telephone calls tie our defense efforts together. Ideas, proposals, decisions, orders, instructions and information flash over telephone wires—and production lines move full speed ahead.

It is our job at the telephone company to meet these responsibilities. We will do so, as we have tried to meet all our service obligations—with all the skill and financial strength at our command.

Negro Citizens to Meet
Tuesday Night at Yarger

A meeting of all Negro citizens of Hope School District 1-A is scheduled for Tuesday night at 7:30 in Yarger High school auditorium. In this meeting a full explanation of the tuition and subscription of funds to aid in providing a full nine month school term will be given. Primary organization has already been completed and we urge that all interested citizens attend this meeting so that they may become properly informed and pledge support. We must do our part in the effort to meet this emergency.

There will be a winter roast Tuesday night, March 27, at the Spot club. The proceeds will go to Miss Martha Joan Johnson, a constant in the Delta Theta scholarship contest. The public is invited.
